A special supplement on U. S. higher education in 1958 is coming in the April issue of the Alumni Magazine. Alumni magazine editors and publishers throughout the country have joined in this first cooperative effort to tell the story of American higher education in a dramatic and panoramic way. In 32 pages of pictures and text, the supplement will present the immense diversity of higher education in its variety of objectives, its problems, its restlessness, and its new approaches. The text has been written by a group of alumni editors who have been at work for more than a year. One of the country's leading photographers, Erich Hartmann of Magnum, has taken the pictures. The supplement will appear in more than 150 alumni magazines whose combined circulation is 1,300,000.

Published four times a year: January, April, July and October

FACING NEW PRESSURES

By John W. Hollenbach
Vice President

With the rapid increase in population of college age youth and the corresponding pressure for entrance into colleges and universities, many liberal arts colleges are faced with the new and somewhat exhilarating experience of having more students knocking at their doors than they had expected, more even than they can accommodate. This is also a sobering experience. The need for educated citizens and highly trained leaders in America in this Satellite Age is frighteningly apparent, and the colleges and universities cannot slough off their responsibility in this task.

At its June 1957 meeting, the Board of Trustees of Hope College examined the problem of the future of Hope squarely and resolved that effort be made to continue the present admissions policy of accepting those applicants whose academic record and personal qualities give sound prospect of success in college. To provide the facilities and finances necessary to meet the rise in enrolment which such a policy will undoubtedly entail, a campaign to raise funds was authorized. You will hear more about this latter phase at a future time. This letter is concerned with the question of our admissions program.

On the surface, the action by the Board would indicate that our admissions practices will proceed "as usual." This is not quite the case. Neither the Board of Trustees, nor the faculty, nor the alumni, nor the parents, nor the students of Hope College want the quality of the instructional program to decline; rather the imperative exists to make the college even better. Yet a decline in quality is inevitable if we increase our student body faster than our facilities and resources, and especially than our ability to find for these students competent new teaching staff (the biggest single problem facing American higher education of the next decade). The same decline in quality is inevitable too if we accept ever larger groups of poorly prepared applicants who turn to us at the last moment because they cannot find entrance in some other college.

The recent publicity given Hope College by its national rating as one of the top liberal arts colleges, plus the general pressure for admission to college has brought an increasing number of inquiries and applications to our admissions office. How to keep Hope a college with a heart, serving its constituents — church and alumni—yet providing an excellent program; how to maintain the personal relations and the community concept of a liberal arts college in the face of constant but gradual growth in size—these have been subjects of constant deliberation this fall here on the campus. Among the decisions reached so far are a few common-sense procedures governing our admissions program.

First, we can reasonably expect that students present their applications and credentials for admission in time for an orderly and sound appraisal and in time for the college to provide adequate housing and classroom facilities and good instruction for them. The best time to do this is the period between the close of the junior year and the end of the first semester of the senior year. By late spring it becomes increasingly difficult to process applications properly and to insure facilities. Those applying during the summer months may well have to wait at least one semester before their application can be considered.

Secondly, since Hope is not able to provide everyone who applies the opportunity to enroll, it must seek to make more sound and discriminating judgments on the capacities and potential success of the applicant in the type of liberal arts degree program which it offers. High school students are urged, therefore, to apply themselves diligently in a sound academic sequence during their high school career and to take College Board Examinations. Applicants with spotty or irregular high school records are especially urged to apply early, so that diagnostic tests and counseling can be given. Borderline cases may be required to take summer work or a post-graduate year as additional preparation for acceptance.

Thirdly, increased efforts should be made to discover young people of excellent intellectual capacities and qualities of leadership and to encourage them to enter Hope College.

I am writing this letter to you because you can help us in several ways. First, what I have said underscores the need for continued financial support from you, in order to meet the challenge of numbers. Secondly, those of you who are parents of high-school age children are urged to have a good discussion with them about the importance of their acquiring good study habits and a sound background if they want to be accepted in the college of their choice and succeed. If your children are sophomores or juniors, get them interested now in college—including Hope. If they are seniors, the time for application is now. Finally, if you know of any young people of scholastic quality and promise of leadership who should be encouraged to attend Hope, tell them about your college, and tell us about them. To facilitate the latter, use the card inserted in this bulletin. A college is no better than the students who are enrolled. Your help in finding the right kind of student body is invaluable.

THE MOTIVATION OF HOPE'S MEN AND WOMEN IN SCIENCE

Because science education is so much in the news just now, it seems fitting that Hope College, with its reputation in the field of science, should speak about the motivation of her men and women in science careers.

To prepare a study, we sent questionnaires to every tenth graduate who is professionally engaged in any field of science. Sixty-two circulars were mailed. Thirty-six (36) had been returned by the time it was necessary to prepare this copy.

From this sampling, which we consider fairly representative of our graduates, it must be concluded that the greatest external stimulus to following a course of study in science, and perhaps any field, is provided by teachers. Eighteen (18) of those responding filled in the "whom" space in the counseling question (see chart below). Of these, eight (8) gave credit to high school teachers, several naming the specific teacher; eight (8) gave credit to college teachers, most of them naming the specific teacher or teachers who influenced them; two (2) remembered counseling by junior high teachers. Three (3) mentioned counseling by parents as well as teachers. One (1) gave credit to his family physician and another to his family dentist.

What Were the Primary Reasons For Your Going Into Science?

	NO. OF TIMES CHECKED	PERCENTAGE OF REPLIES
Counseling by (whom) -----	22	61%
Reading or studying -----	19	52%
Evidence of Success by friends and relatives -----	14	39%
Scholarships available in graduate school -----	9	25%
Other explanation -----	15	41%

The second most important factor in motivating the individual to science is his own reaction to his reading and studying. Perhaps the factors of receptivity and desire to find a goal for life are contained in this motive.

However, only five named the subjects read and studied which helped in making their decisions. Those who did named aeronautical engineering, civics course, science books, books on vocations, and Boy Scout first aid books.

Those who checked "evidence of success by friends or relatives" for the most part did not name the person, though space was provided to do so. Those who did, gave credit to: family dentist, parents, an uncle, Drs. Harrison and Thoms (medical missionaries), engineering graduate, doctors in family, family doctor (in three cases).

Only one person checked "scholarships available for graduate study" as his first reason for studying science. None gave it second spot and just eight (8) listed it as number three reason.

You may find the fringe motivations interesting. The one cited most often under "other explanation" was "interest and aptitude" in the subjects. "Opportunity for service" followed rather closely. Others mentioned were: "Hope's good chemistry department," "desire," "personal incidents," "father's stimulus to interest in math," "desire to become a medical missionary," and "admiration for my physician during long convalescence."

Interesting as individual motives are, for the most part, from our study, we must conclude that the three most influential motives are: counseling by teachers, reading and studying, and evidence of success by relatives and friends.

It is evident from the responses to our questionnaire that the greatest number of our people made their career decisions during high school years.

CHART 2

About When Did You Decide to Study Science?

Before high school -----	8	22%
During high school -----	17	47%
During college -----	11	30%

When we combine the Chart I main factor—counseling by teachers, with the time element, the natural conclusion is that the high school science teacher holds the key spot in the science education picture.

From our study it is interesting to note also that Hope College, with its enviable record of turning out science professing people, has not produced any in this key position. (There certainly are some Hope people teaching science in high schools, but the percentage would be very small if the sampling in our study is adequate.)

You may be wondering just what is the spread of the professions of these Hope College people reporting?

What is your highest degree:

	NUMBER
M.D. -----	13
Ph.D. -----	7
D.D.S. -----	5
M.S. -----	4
B.S. -----	1
A.B. -----	6

You will note in this chart that the greatest number of those responding were M.D.'s. Of the thirteen (13) we heard from, eight (8) are in private practice, two (2) are still studying, one (1) is in the U.S. Public Health Service, one (1) is a pathologist and university lecturer and one (1) is in research and university teaching.

The distribution of the seven (7) Ph.D.'s shows that four (4) are teaching in colleges and universities, although two of these are combining teaching with other services such as public health laboratory supervision and research. Two (2) are industrial chemists, one in the field of manufacturing and the other in petroleum research. One (1) is a market development engineer in chemical and petroleum manufacturing.

All the dentists are in private practice.

The four (4) with M.S. degrees: one (1) is a physics teacher in a university, one (1) is doing graduate work toward a Ph.D., one (1) is a chemist in a plastics manufacturing concern, and one (1) has been in sales for a large company for 33 years.

The six (6) reporting A.B.'s: two (2) are industrial chemists; one (1), a product development chemist; one (1), a medical technologist; one (1) a chemical company executive, and one (1), a medical student.

Space does not permit quoting all the interesting comments that came with the completed forms, but one (from a Ph.D.) was different and you may find it interesting: "There is no shortage of scientific manpower that proper utilization of presently trained personnel can't solve. People trained in science are in sales, their own businesses, management and such diverse fields because of lack of monetary incentive to remain in research."

Other general comments for the most part went something like this: "The strong tradition in chemistry at Hope affected my final decision"; and "Were it not for the motivation I received from my teachers and fellow science students at Hope, I would probably have branched off down an easier road before I finished."

MUSIC LIBRARY

The Karol Fairchild Music Library in the Music Building has been enlarged this fall by the addition of several gifts.

One valuable gift was a large number of used records from Dr. Charles Warren Fox of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester. Dr. Fox has become interested in the Hope collection through Anthony Kooiker, former member of the Hope faculty, who is now working on his doctorate at Eastman. Several unusual recordings by Bartok & Mahler were included in this gift.

Other donors in recent months have been Clyde Geerlings, Anthony Kooiker and Nicholas Pool '56.

Since the building of the Music Building, a fine record library has been established. It is open all day, and is being used increasingly by the students and faculty.

Hope's collection now includes approximately 1600 records, 600 of which are Children's Records, to be used only in Music Education courses.

FOOTBALL RESUME—BASKETBALL PROSPECTUS

By Tunis Baker

The Hope College football team ended a bang up season with only two losses, each by one point, and seven wins. This was the finest football record since 1953 and the best football team ever coached by Russ De Vette.

The highlight of the season was the game with the powerful Hillsdale club which up to game time had 30 wins and no losses in 3 years. But despite a keyed-up Hope squad for this important Homecoming game, they dropped a 7-6 decision before 4,000 frantic fans.

The seven out of nine record placed Hope in a tie for second place with Albion in the MIAA.

Mert Vander Lind, Larry Ter Molen, and Ken Faber, all of Grand Rapids, were selected on the MIAA all conference team. Larry Ter Molen and Dick Gantos, also of Grand Rapids, were selected for the all-state small college team. Ken Faber was chosen Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Larry Ter Molen was selected to be the 1958 captain by the team.

The Hope College basketball team is off to a good start toward the MIAA championship. Before the season began, the MIAA coaches had already picked Hope as the team to beat because the co-champions of last year had their entire starting lineup back for this season.

More than 2,000 cheering fans saw Hope open the season by downing Albion 77-66 at Holland's Civic Center. Three days later the team traveled to Alma and walloped them 82-61. At the next home game a capacity crowd saw one of the fastest games of the season as Hope rolled up a score of 112-80 against Eastern Michigan, the most points ever scored by a Hope team in the Civic Center.

The Hope-Calvin games have provided the highlight of college basketball for Western Michigan fans for many years. This year's game played at Grand Rapids was no exception as Hope came back in a second half rally to beat their arch rivals 92-77. If Hope beats Calvin again on their own floor on February 12, it will be the first non-split season victory since 1950 in this long series between these two traditional rivals.

During the Christmas vacation Hope received its first set back at the hands of Central State of Ohio, the all Negro team, by a score of 77-74, but reversed the picture at home when Central State appeared in Holland. The score was 68-56.

The game with Chicago University was a fiasco, ending with the amazing score of 24-14. The Chicago team held the ball for most of the game without making any attempt to drive for the basket.

Just before going to press Hope took on the ever threatening Kalamazoo contingent and edged a close victory with a score of 67-62.

From here on in every coach in the MIAA league will be trying to think up a different method of beating Hope, but the prospects for overcoming Hope's speed, height and determination to win, are rather slim.

VIENNA SUMMER SCHOOL TO BE REPEATED

The Vienna Summer School, so successfully carried out last summer, will be repeated this summer of 1958. Dr. Paul Fried, director of the project, has had inquiries about the program from students everywhere, including a group from the University of Sacramento in California.

The project offers students a unique opportunity to integrate the pleasures of touring Europe, the challenges of intensive academic work under European professors, and the experience of residence in private homes in one of Europe's oldest and most beautiful cities.

The program offers, primarily, courses in which students will derive the maximum benefit from the European location. These include five language courses taught in German, and five liberal arts courses in History, Music, and Literature taught in English. From two to eight semester hours academic credit can be earned to apply to the regular undergraduate program offered by Hope College. Credits are also transferrable to other institutions.

The faculty of the Vienna Summer School will consist of members of the faculties of the three cooperating institutions: The University of Vienna, The Institute of European Studies and Hope College.

The 1958 program will begin on June 14 with the departure of the group from Quebec on the TSS Neptunia. During the nine-day crossing students will have briefings on the political, social and economic conditions of areas to be visited during the study-tour. Non-credit introductory and review courses in French and German will also be available during the crossing.

The first two weeks after arrival, June 23 to July 6, the group will take a study tour through The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Germany, and Austria. One of the highlights of this tour will be the visit to the World's Fair in Bruxelles.

From July 8 to August 15 the students will attend classes in Vienna and will make their headquarters in that city. After the study session there will be opportunity for 10 days of independent travel. For those who prefer an organized tour during this period, arrangements will be made.

For more information and a brochure of the program write to Dr. William Vander Lugt, Dean of Hope College.

DR. BROWN'S TRAVEL PLANS

For those who do not wish to attend summer school, but who would like a conducted tour of Europe, Dr. Donald Brown, head of the department of Spanish at Hope since 1948, is planning to conduct a leisurely and informal trip, travelling by sea and station wagon.

Dr. Brown has conducted tours to Mexico and Europe as a part of the college program previously. This year he is arranging the trip as a private venture. He expects his tour will be attractive to Hope alumni, especially those who are in the teaching profession.

His tour will sail from New York June 18. The port of debarkation is Lisbon. The group will then go by car to Spain with stopovers in romantic Seville, Granada and Madrid. In France the itinerary will include Mt. St. Michel and Chartres on the way to Paris, where a stopover of three or four days is planned. Upon leaving Paris the tour will head eastward to Germany's Black Forest and the picturesque old towns of Bavaria. Passing through Oberamergau and Innsbruck the group will enter Switzerland from the east, seeing St. Moritz and the Rhone Glacier.

Realizing the impossibility of pleasing everyone with a fixed itinerary, Dr. Brown plans at this point to let everyone travel for five days on his own. Especially in a more mature group each person is certain to have some long dreamed of place he wishes to see. Maybe it will be Rome, or Berlin, or Amsterdam or possibly some will prefer to just stay in Switzerland—say at Zermatt—and take hikes up to the snow-line near the Matterhorn.

The last leg of the car trip will be from Switzerland to Venice, where the group will board ship once more for a roundabout return voyage via the Mediterranean. Ports of call will be Patras, Greece, Naples, Palermo and Gibraltar. The ship will reach New York August 14.

The fee for the 58 day journey will be $895. Those interested should write Dr. Brown at Hope College, very soon.

ALUMNI IN THE NEWS

HOLLEMANS IN TAIWAN

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Holleman, both class of 1914, are in Taipeh, Taiwan, where Dr. Holleman has charge of a hospital.

Hope people will remember that Dr. and Mrs. Holleman (Ruth Vanden Berg) were medical missionaries in Amoy, China, from 1919 to 1950. Dr. Holleman was superintendent of Hope Hospital in Amoy, which was founded in 1898 by Dr. John A. Otte, Hope 1893.

Through Chinese acquaintances and personnel with whom he formerly worked, Dr. Holleman was located by the Chinese Christian Church for his new position. The Amoy dialect is spoken on Taiwan and a doctor who understood and spoke it was needed.

The Hospital in Taiwan, Mackay Memorial, was established by the Presbyterian Church in Canada in 1878 and has been continuously in operation since. It is an institution of more than 150 beds and has a daily outpatient attendance of 200.

Dr. and Mrs. Holleman have been living in Pomona, California since 1950, where Dr. Holleman has been associated with the Roos-Loos Medical Group.

They sailed from Los Angeles on August 3 and arrived in Taipeh on September 3, spending two weeks in Japan en route. Address: Section 2, No. 94, Chungshan Pei Lu, Taipeh, Taiwan.

★1952. Gordon De Pree started his duties as pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Cuba, New Mexico on November 1. He will spend a year in Cuba before being sent by the Presbyterian Board to Korea to establish a Christian Service Men's Center in Seoul. Address: c/o Presbyterian Church, Cuba, New Mexico.

HONORARY ALUMNUS PUBLISHES NEW BOOK

Harold McCracken, explorer, research scientist, editor and writer, who was honored with the Litt.D. degree by Hope College in June, 1957, has had another book published.

"The Charles M. Russell Book" by Harold McCracken is the biggest and best collection of the work of one of the West's most famous artists. It contains thirty-five full-color paintings, and over one hundred and eighty drawings by Charles M. Russell. It is not only a collection of his work, but also a complete biography of his colorful life.

The author, recognized as one of the foremost experts in the special field of Western Americana art, has been working toward publication of this new volume for twenty-five years—studying the artist's work, compiling data, and serving as an adviser to leading galleries, museums, and private collectors.

BENJAMIN DE YOUNG RETIRES

Rev. Benjamin De Young '07 retired on November 30 after 47 years in the active ministry.

Rev. and Mrs. De Young, nee Martha Van Dyke of Holland, started their career in the Reformed Church as missionaries to Gray Hawk, Jackson County, Ky. After five years of service there they served pastorates in the Classis of Rochester for the remainder of their active ministry. They remained in the Newark, N.Y. church for twenty-seven years.

There are seven De Young children, two of whom are Hope graduates: Edith '34, now Mrs. C. L. Conley of Baltimore, and Anne '42, a missionary in Arabia. A son, Edward, and his family are missionaries under the Africa Inland Mission in Kenya, East Africa; another son is a graduate of Syracuse U., and another, of Cornell.

Since their retirement, the De Youngs are living in Akron, N.Y.

LUIDENS BECOMES EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF RAVEMCCO

Rev. Edwin M. Luidens '40, who with his family has served as an evangelistic missionary to Arabia since 1944, has accepted the appointment to be executive secretary of RAVEMCCO (Radio Visual Education and Mass Communication Committee) of the Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of Churches. His duties started on January 1, 1958 and will continue through June 30, 1960. He has been granted a two year leave of absence from his work in Arabia.

A graduate of New Brunswick Seminary, Luidens received his master's degree from Princeton University and Theological Seminary. He has served as co-chairman of the Radio/Audio-Visual Commission of the Near East Christian Council. He will be the first full time secretary in the history of RAVEMCCO, which has previously been administered by the Presbyterian U.S.A. Board of Foreign Missions.

RAVEMCCO is made up of 22 organizations, representing 16 denominations and three non-denominational bodies, participating in a worldwide program of mass communication of the Gospel. Mediums are flat pictures, flannelgraphs, filmstrips, films, public address systems, recording phonographs, mobile units and radio stations. The Committee also tries to train efficient national leaders in the use of these tools.

Mrs. Luidens is the former Ruth Stegenga '42. There are three Luidens children: Donald, 10; Carol, 8 and Robert 4. The family will live in New Brunswick, N. J. Mr. Luidens' office will be at 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

THE HENRY VRUWINKS RETIRE

Rev. Dr. Henry A. Vruwink '10 retired and became Minister Emeritus of the Flatbush Dutch Reformed Church on December 31, after forty-five years of ministry in the Reformed Church in America. During the last thirty-two years, he has served in the three oldest Churches in the Denomination: twelve years in the Flatbush Dutch Reformed Church of Brooklyn, New York, founded in 1654; eight years in the Collegiate Church of New York City, founded in 1628; twelve years in the Madison Avenue Reformed Church of Albany, New York, founded in 1642. Previously he had served three years in the Reformed Church at Herkimer, New York, founded in 1722; six years in Second Reformed Church, Grand Haven, Michigan; and four years as a Missionary among Indians in Oklahoma.

In the year that the Reformed Church united with the National Council of Churches, he was President of the General Synod of the Reformed Church. For many years he served as a member of various Boards of the Denomination. He also was President of the Brooklyn Division of the Protestant Council.

Since their graduation from Hope College in 1910, Dr. and Mrs. Vruwink (Jennie Dikaart) have maintained a sustained interest in American Indians and their problems. Early in 1958 they will visit Indians in Oklahoma and New Mexico, and hope to speak about the Indian situation in Churches, conferences and conventions, noonday luncheon clubs, and to any other groups who may invite them. Dr. Vruwink will also be available to serve as guest preacher in Churches.

Their address during the summer months, from May through September, will be Thousand Island Park, New York. They have not yet determined where they will live during the winter months, but may be reached through the Flatbush Dutch Reformed Church, Flatbush and Church Avenues, Brooklyn 26, N.Y.

★1934. Russell J. Paalman participated on the teaching program of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin in November. He spoke on the subject "Diabetes in Pregnancy" in three area sessions conducted for credit in the state.

TRIBUTE TO HOPE'S FUND DIRECTOR

By Mildred Ramaker '26

For unstinting service and vigorous leadership, the Hope College Alumni Association salutes Dr. Harold Dykhuizen '30, who continued as fund director when he retired from the presidency in June, 1957.

The splendid contribution of the Alumni Association to the college this year—$47,862.89, did not just happen. Shortly after Harold's election to the presidency in 1955, he sought an interview with President Lubbers to determine exactly the duties and the opportunities for service this office entailed. Then through additional conferences with Clyde H. Geerlings, Marian Stryker, and the executive committee, the groundwork for the alumni activities for the year was laid.

"A dollar a year for each year since graduation! for each alumnus!" was the challenge Dr. Bud threw out to the Board of Directors, and to the alumni at the June dinner, and then at the club meetings from Muskegon to New York and back to Chicago. With 1,572 of our 4,190 alumni actively contributing to the college, the Hope College Alumni Association is beginning to assume new vitality.

Continued enthusiastic support to assist in keeping Hope college one of the TOP TEN will be the best expression of appreciation to Dr. Dykhuizen for a job well begun.

Whereas, our graduates and friends of Hope College are found in every State of the Union and many foreign countries; and

Whereas, it requires cultivation to intensify such loyalties and friendships; now therefore be it

Resolved that the Board of Directors of the Hope College Alumni Association, in behalf of the graduates and friends of said college, expresses its sincere appreciation to Clyde Gearlings for his devotion to duty, for his real efforts to cultivate the loyalties of Hope College graduates and friends by making and maintaining personal contact with as many as possible and frequent travel to all parts of the country and thus promoting the spiritual and material needs of Hope College; and be it further

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to Clyde Gearlings; and be it further

Resolved that the assistant editor be directed to publish this resolution in the Alumni magazine at an early date.

This resolution was adopted by the Board of Directors on the 26th day of October, 1937.

These resolutions prepared by the Hope College Alumni Association Board of Directors at the Homecoming Meeting, are published here upon the direction of the President of the Association, Max D. Boersma.

A RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION

A resolution of appreciation for faithful performance and services rendered by Marian Anderson Stryker in the interest of Hope College graduates, past and present students and faculty, and especially the assistance rendered to the President and Directors of the Hope College Alumni Association during recent years.

Whereas, the success of any undertaking is largely dependent upon people in key positions; and

Whereas, the bouquets are often presented to those who are elected to act in behalf of our association and thus are apparently carrying the load, while in reality Marian Anderson Stryker consistently and adequately prepared the ground work as needed by the elected officials; and

Whereas, Marian Anderson Stryker as alumni editor has edited for several years our Alumni magazine, which compares very favorably with all Alumni magazines published in America; now therefore be it

Resolved by the Board of Directors of the Hope College Alumni Association that the Board of Directors, on behalf of all graduates and friends of Hope College, expresses its sincere appreciation to Marian Anderson Stryker for her devotion to duty, for her spirited interest in the affairs of Hope College Alumni, for her constant willingness to be of assistance to those in need of assistance in the administration of Alumni affairs; and be it further

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to Marian Anderson Stryker; and be it further

Resolved that the assistant editor be directed to publish this resolution in the Alumni magazine at an early date.

This resolution was adopted by the Board of Directors on the 26th day of October, 1937
